

J.P. Morgan IB Interview Day Mannheim German Speakers 7th November 2011

J.P. Morgan has a long-standing reputation for doing first-class business in a first-class way. Combining a proud legacy with innovative and strategic thinking, we help companies grow and markets develop. We have an exceptional team of employees collaborating globally to deliver the best solutions and advice to meet our clients' needs.

We operate in 100 countries, and hold global leadership positions across our businesses. This is why we are the most respected financial institution in the world – and why we can offer you an outstanding career. Be part of it.

We invest a lot of time, care and resources into our internship programmes. To us, these represent nothing less than our long-term success. They are the best opportunity for you to find out about us, and vice versa. And an internship is the best way to secure a future full-time position with J.P. Morgan.

On 7th November 2011, J.P. Morgan will be holding Investment Banking Interviews specifically for Mannheim students (German speakers) for internships in London and Frankfurt.

These interviews will be considered as full round and will include a numerical test and will take place in our Frankfurt office.

All applications must be submitted by 23rd October 2011 via www.jpmorgan.com/careers as generic internship applications for Investment Banking. There is no specific application part online for this interview day. Therefore please also send an email to corinna.haas@jpmorgan.com after you have applied online, so that I can consider your online application for the Mannheim interview day. Please make sure that you select Mannheim as university out of the drop down box in the online form.
